

As for One Essential Reason to Believe in God... etc...

As for consideration that one cannot act against the Universe; for instance; even of that of the supernatural or spiritual; in the jest of enablement of sources of evil through counteraction or known as 'action' as a positive 'action' of the self; there is; once discovered, an essential truth: As such a truth exists, it would not be true that no such thing as God exists.

Of course; it may be considered as to if 'exists' is the appropriate word... However; when there is a condition there is an exception to circumstance.
