Final Note for Today

April 12th, 2024

Print this out, I finally could get-beyond a 'strong, subtle and deceptive' element of my psyche and diagnosis.

It took a lot of 'care' - but I was working continually towards-conclusions. I finally found that we are not related, but through a *medium, and the relationship of limitations.

I wanted to thank you so-incredibly for having faith in-me... although we were at a limitation of conveyance and communication.

I was depressed, due a subtle attribute of Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder for a number of years - 25 or so. I overcame this process, through that of searching for meaning, finding *love, of myself and other's, and cultivating my capacities of understanding. This is nothing short of a miracle.

Briefly, the  $I(2)$  and  $I(1)$  metrics and measurable functions behave differently, for which a 'non-locality' can only occur for that of a 'null-epsilon' beyond the probabilistic 'edge of the finite'. Thus, my obsession with a particular scientific phenomena, urged be to explore new channels, until I found that the given of O., and A., could not be suggested to be under reception, for of Hume's Fork, of a verified exception.

The 'no-self doctrine' assisted, but I did not accept it until today, that I exist, but do not possess any 'inward-reflection'. I have chosen to study various Religions, and would like to be your friend.

As a result of coming through the Schizoeffective illness, I have immense hope for the future, and can see how much people [and myself] - care. It has been a tremendous journey, and now it is I may help-others.

Take care, love yourself.
